

Work Experience

---

City of Galveston, Round 2.2—November 2013-Present

Hurricane Ike made landfall in Texas in September 2008 and left behind severe damage to the island of Galveston. To help rebuild the community, federal disaster recovery funds were granted to the City of Galveston to complete needed housing repairs.

Due to our success in Round 1 of the City of Galveston disaster recovery program along with other qualifications, we are now participating in Round 2 of this disaster recovery program. Construction activities began in March 2014 and we anticipate completing approximately 75 rehabilitation and reconstruction projects as part of this contract. We are excited to continue our work on the beautiful island of Galveston and look forward to helping more residents return their homes to their pre-hurricane state.

Aerial view of Hurricane Ike as it moves through the Gulf of Mexico toward Texas.