Tu Hogar Renace Program, Puerto Rico—March 2018—anticipated completion by December 2018

Hurricane Maria made landfall in Puerto Rico in September 2017 and was regarded as the worst natural disaster to affect the country. The hurricane caused widespread flooding, loss of power to the entire island, and destruction to countless properties.

Over 200,000 residents lost their homes and many more sustained damage. As a result, HUD awarded $1.5 billion to help Puerto Rico recover. As part of this recovery effort, DSW Homes is participating in the Tu Hogar Renace (translation: your home is reborn) Program.

As part of this program, DSW Homes is performing minor rehabilitation to more than 3,000 homes. Performing work in more than 75 different locales on the island, DSW Homes has worked to help make residences livable.
